

Answer the following questions:

1. What are the two factors needed to calculate the average atomic mass of a substance?
2. Calculate the average atomic mass of naturally occurring copper which consists of:
 - 69.15% Copper-63 which has the mass of 62.929 amu
 - 30.85% Copper-65 which has the mass of 64.927 amu.